OVERVIEW

TREATMENTS

NEWS

Yellow skin caused by the build-up of bilirubin in the blood.

Jaundice may occur if the liver can't efficiently process red blood cells as they break down. It's normal in healthy newborns and usually clears on its own. At other ages, it may signal infection or liver disease.

COMMON CAUSES

Jaundice can have causes that aren't due to underlying disease. Examples include Gilbert's syndrome (a benign condition) or medication side effects.
